

We utilize state of the art technology to evaluate your eye health including a retinal photo screening, which the doctors recommend as part of your eye exam. They allow us to take a detailed image of the back of your eye, which helps us detect any potential issues, like signs of eye disease or conditions that may not be visible during a regular exam. It's a quick and non-invasive way to ensure your eyes are healthy and catch any problems early and can often replace the need for dilation. There is a small out of pocket copay of $29.00 for this service.
